Trademarks

MVU's trademarks such as Maharishi Vedic Approach to Health™, Maharishi Ayur-Veda®, etc. or any similar names can only be used for the services of MVU or its affiliates.

Course Material

Obviously, any material that is copyright such as the handouts and the comprehensive syllabus should not be used without permission from MVU except for your own personal instruction and education.

Uniqueness of the Knowledge

All theoretical knowledge and practical skills that you will receive on this course, including Maharishi Pulse Diagnosis is for your own use and for application in your diagnosis and treatment of patients in your medical practice.

Authentic Maharishi Ayur-Veda Consultations and Quality of Herbal Products

When claiming to practice Maharishi Ayur-Veda your patients will expect to receive an authentic Maharishi Ayur-Veda consultation and herbal food supplements from a company approved as a manufacturer of Maharishi Ayur-Veda products. If you want to recommend products from other sources it is therefore appropriate to inform the patient that the product in question or the treatment is not from Maharishi Ayur-Veda. MVU's approval of any given product shall not render MVU liable in any manner for claims relating to approved products.

Teaching Maharishi Ayur-Veda

After one has completed the full training as a Maharishi Ayur-Veda physician, Maharishi Vedic University (MVU) offers, to those who are interested, a faculty training to become an approved teacher of MVU in Maharishi Ayur-Veda, which includes guidelines of how to use the course material and Maharishi's special teaching principles, and a teacher's manual for each course. Without this special faculty training one cannot teach independently the knowledge of Maharishi Ayur-Veda to others or write articles or books unless this is done in a format established or fully approved by MVU or its affiliates. However, this does not limit your freedom to inform patients, colleagues, or the public at large, verbally or in writing, about your experiences and the beneficial effects of this health care system.
